

TERMS OF USE, PRIVACY & DISCLAIMERS

This website (DANAMORGANONLINE.COM; MORGANIMMIGRATIONLAW.COM) does not create an attorney-client relationship. Information provided here is not intended as legal advice. Dana T. Morgan is a New Jersey licensed attorney authorized to practice federal immigration law in all 50 United States and its territories. Morgan Immigration Law Firm L.L.C. is a New Jersey Limited Liability Company with a main mailing address currently in Atlanta, Georgia.

This Firm is limited to the practice of federal immigration law.

The information you read and gather from this website is not, nor is it intended to be, legal advice. You should consult an attorney for advice regarding your individual situation, as all situations are different. You may contact MORGAN IMMIGRATION LAW FIRM L.L.C. (hereafter, "The Firm"), via phone, social media, and electronic mail. However, contacting us does not in any way create an attorney-client relationship. An attorney-client relationship is not formed until an agreement ("Retainer Agreement"), is signed by managing attorney, Dana T. Morgan, Esq., and the Client. Please, do not send any confidential information to us until such time as an attorney-client relationship has been established. All communication is, however, treated confidentially, unless the law prohibits confidence to be upheld.

TERMS OF USE, PRIVACY & DISCLAIMERS

The Firm might collect information about our users in three ways: directly from the user, from our Web server logs and through cookies. The Firm might use the information to provide you with a personalized Internet experience that delivers the information, resources, and services that are most relevant and helpful to you. The Firm does not share any of the information you provide with others, unless we say so in this Privacy Policy, or when we believe in good faith that the law requires it.

User-supplied information: Please do not submit any confidential, proprietary or sensitive personally identifiable information (e.g. Social Security Number; date of birth; drivers license number; or credit card, bank account or other financial information) (collectively, "Sensitive Information") through this site, or social media accounts for The Firm. If you submit any Sensitive Information, you do so at your own risk and we will not be liable to you or responsible for consequences of your submission.

Information that you provide to The Firm through a contact form, or an online chat will be used so that we may respond to your inquiry. The Firm may also use information you provide to us to communicate with you in the future. If you do not wish to receive such communications, you may opt out (unsubscribe) as described below.

Web server logs: When you visit our website, The Firm may track information about your visit and store that information in web server logs, which are records of the activities on our sites. The servers automatically capture and save the information electronically. Examples of the information The Firm may collect include:

- your unique Internet protocol address;
- the name of your unique Internet service provider;
- the town/city, county/state and country from which you access our website;

the kind of browser or computer you use;
the number of links you click within the site;
the date and time of your visit;
the web page from which you arrived to our site;
the pages you viewed on the site; and certain searches/queries that you conducted via our website(s).

The information The Firm collects in web server logs helps administer the site, analyze its usage, protect the website and its content from inappropriate use and improve the user's experience.

Cookies: The Firm's websites and applications may use cookies and similar technologies to store and help track information about you. Cookies are simply small pieces of data that are sent to your browser from a Web server and stored on your computer's hard drive. The Firm uses cookies to help remind know who you are, and to help you navigate our sites during your visits. Cookies also can tell The Firm where visitors go on a website and allow us to save preferences for you so you won't have to re-enter them each time you visit. The use of cookies is relatively standard. Most Internet browsers are initially set up to accept cookies, but you can use your browser to either notify you when you receive a cookie or to disable cookies.

If you wish to disable cookies from this site, you can do so using your browser. You should understand that some features of many sites may not function properly if you don't accept cookies. For more information about using browsers to manage cookies, please see All About Cookies. You can also refuse to accept Flash cookies from this website using Adobe's Flash management tools. You can opt out of Google's use of cookies by visiting Google's Ad Settings.

By visiting this website, you consent to the use of cookies and similar technologies in accordance with this Privacy Statement.

Third-party Services: The Firm may use services hosted by third parties to assist in providing services, and to help understand the use of our site by our visitors. These services may collect information sent by your browser as part of a web page request, including your IP address or cookies. If these third-party services collect information, they do so anonymously and in the aggregate to provide information helpful to us such as website trends, without identifying individual visitors.

In addition, The Firm may use services provided by third parties to display relevant content, products, services and advertising to you. These third parties may use cookies, web beacons and similar technologies to collect or receive information from this website and elsewhere on the internet. They may then use that information to provide measurement services so we can understand your interests and retarget advertisements based on your previous visits to this website. The Firm does not share your personal information with any third-party advertiser, ad server or ad network.

You may be able to opt-out of the collection and use of information for ad targeting by some third parties by visiting www.aboutads.info/choices. You can opt out of Google's use of cookies by visiting Google's Ad Settings. You can visit this page to opt out of AdRoll's and their partners' targeted advertising. Please see "Cookies" in the section above for more information on how you can control the use of cookies on your computer.

Appropriate security measures are taken to help protect your personal information from accidental loss and from unauthorized access, use or disclosure. However, The Firm cannot guarantee that unauthorized persons will always be unable to defeat our security measures. The Firm will not sell, rent, or lease mailing lists or other user data to others, and will not make your personal information available to any unaffiliated parties, except as follows:

to agents, website vendors and/or contractors who may use it on our behalf or in connection with their relationship with The Firm;

if The Firm is unable to assist with your matter, but know an unaffiliated attorney or firm that may be able to help you, The Firm may refer you and share information you provided us with that party; and as required by law, in a matter of public safety or policy, as needed in connection with the transfer of our business assets (for example, if The Firm is acquired by another firm or if we are liquidated during bankruptcy proceedings), or if The Firm believes in good faith that sharing the data is necessary to protect our rights, or property.

You may opt out of any future contacts from The Firm at any time. Contact The Firm via the phone number, or mailing address on this website at any time.

If you have any additional questions or concerns about this privacy policy, please contact The Firm via the phone number, email, or mailing address listed on this website. If these information practices change in a significant way, the policy changes will be posted, here.

By visiting and using this website, you agree to be bound by its terms of use, privacy policies, and disclaimers.

###